PLAINTIFF BECKMAN COULTER, INC.’S SECOND ELECTION OF ASSERTED CLAIMS

Pursuant to the Court’s Oral Order at the Supplemental Markman Hearing (9/17/2025 Hr’g Tr. at 206:16-19), Plaintiff Beckman Coulter, Inc. (“Beckman Coulter”) hereby serves Defendant Cytex Biosciences, Inc. (“Cytex”) with Beckman Coulter’s Second Election of Asserted Claims, which identifies 16 total Asserted Claims. Beckman Coulter provides this disclosure solely because the Court has ordered it over Beckman Coulter’s objection. See, e.g., 9/17/2025 Hr’g Tr. at 201:12-204:10; 3/24/25 Hr’g Tr. at 12:2-16:23, 20:2-25, 24:1-25:1; D.I. 61 (Beckman Coulter’s Letter Regarding Discovery Dispute). Consistent with Magistrate Judge Tennyson’s statement that Beckman Coulter can “bring claims back” (3/24/25 Hr’g Tr. at 14:15-19), Beckman Coulter reserves the right to amend, substitute, and/or supplement this initial election of asserted claims as fact discovery and expert discovery in this case progress.

Subject to the objections and reservations above and below, Beckman Coulter hereby elects the following Asserted Claims:

Patent	Asserted Claims
10,330,582	Claims 1, 3, 6, 23, 26
11,703,443	Claims 4, 6, 10, 11, 15
12,174,107	Claims 5, 16, 18, 26, 27, 29

For the reasons set forth above and below and in Beckman Coulter’s Letter Regarding Discovery Dispute (D.I. 61), which is incorporated herein, Beckman Coulter objects to the Court’s Order requiring Beckman Coulter to narrow the Asserted Claims while Cytek has continued to fail to comply with its discovery obligations, including, e.g., by failing to produce certain discovery that is relevant to understanding Cytek’s claims and defenses, such as its Court-ordered core technical document production, its other document production, and other discovery. Such premature claim narrowing violates Beckman Coulter’s due process rights by depriving Beckman Coulter of “the opportunity to determine whether particular claims might raise separate issues of infringement and invalidity in light of the defendants’ accused products and proposed defenses.” In re Katz Interactive Call Processing Patent Litig., 639 F.3d 1303, 1313 n.3 (Fed. Cir. 2011). Beckman Coulter reserves all rights.

Beckman Coulter’s Second Election of Asserted Claims is based upon the discovery that has been provided by Cytek thus far in this matter. Although the deadline for substantial completion of fact discovery was August 22, Cytek’s production, including Cytek's production of core technical documents pursuant to Paragraph 2 of the Scheduling Order (D.I. 25), remains substantially deficient and does not comply with the Court's order. Cytek produced less than 45% of its production (to date) by the Court's deadline for substantial completion of production. For example, Cytek has produced over 300,000 pages of documents this week and over 18,000 documents from the custodian Mr. Kennedy less than one week before his deposition. Despite its belated productions, Cytek's production remains substantially deficient. For example, at least the following categories of core technical documents appear to be absent from Cytek's production: samples of each accused product; simulations of light paths or ray trace diagrams; documents from which technical specifications for elements of the optical system of each accused product can be discerned, including information regarding the filters used in the WDM; documents from multiple custodians identified in its initial disclosures; and documents prior to 2019 that are highly relevant to infringement, validity, and willfulness. Beckman Coulter repeatedly identified these and other deficiencies in numerous correspondence and asked Cytek to comply with its obligations. However, Cytek has thus far failed to remedy these deficiencies.

Beckman Coulter's Second Election of Asserted Claims is also based upon the Court's oral rulings at the Markman Hearings. 8/21/2025 Hr'g Tr.; 9/17/2025

Hr’g Tr. To the extent the Court later orders additional constructions or different constructions, Beckman Coulter reserves the right to amend its election of claims.

Consistent with Magistrate Judge Tennyson’s statement that Beckman Coulter can “bring claims back” (3/24/25 Hr’g Tr. at 14:15-19), Beckman Coulter reserves the right to amend, substitute, and/or supplement this initial election of asserted claims as fact discovery and expert discovery in this case progress. Moreover, as explained during the March 24, 2025 Hearing, the claims in this case “are not duplicative,” and “there is no argument that they are.” 3/24/25 Hr’g Tr. at 15:14-15. These claims therefore raise “unique issues as to liability or damages,” Katz, 639 F.3d at 1312, and Beckman Coulter expressly reserves all rights, including to, at a later date, assert at a trial in this or a subsequent litigation any or all of the Asserted Claims identified in Beckman Coulter’s Paragraph 4(c) Disclosures. Moreover, to the extent any currently non-elected claims are dismissed from the case, they are dismissed without prejudice. See, e.g., SanDisk Corp. v. Kingston Tech. Co., 695 F.3d 1348, 1353 (Fed. Cir. 2012); Fed. R. Civ. P. 41(a).
